HEAVEN'S GIFT

The wedding planners at Heaven's Gift believe that because all couples are unique, their weddings should likewise take on their unique personalities, be it fun, opulent, meditative or downright quirky.

Hannah Chong who helms the team does her job so well because she is a wonderful listener; on top of being an astute event planner. She also has a trained eye for fashion and all things beautiful.

She and her team are committed to working with couples to portray their very personal love stories at their weddings. And the diversity of weddings they have handled speaks volumes of their versatility.

The fact that Heaven's Gift is a member of Weddings Beautiful Worldwide, a division of National Bridal Service in the US, is additional reassurance to couples that they are in the hands of experts who adhere to strict industry standards of quality.

Hannah and her team offer a comprehensive wedding consultancy service, from analysing and recommending budgets, to developing themes and ideas, to floral design, to ensuring that everything runs without a glitch on the wedding day itself. Still, it is the intimacy with which they accord their clients that sets them apart.

Hannah's advice to couples: "Realise that your wedding is a celebration, not a performance. Focus on celebrating your union with your friends and loved ones." And you can because you know Hannah and her team will ensure that all aspects of your wedding will be no less than perfect.
