

Wedding Fantasy

FOR THESE NEWLY-WEDS, THE RITZ-CARLTON BALLROOM WAS TRANSFORMED INTO A CHERRY BLOSSOM GARDEN REplete WITH FLORAL FOUNTAINS

“A good match!” Mutual friends noted their complementary personalities and introduced Linda to KC. Both hit it off swiftly and developed from mere acquaintances to bosom buddies before eventually taking the plunge.

The Proposal

It was a dreamy Venetian experience created by KC — a picturesque painted river, a gondola and a huge heart made of candles and rose petals in their very own apartment. KC has taken Linda out on a full day date on her birthday. Although the latter suspected that he was going to propose, nothing happened by the time they reached home. It was only when they stepped into the apartment; Linda gasped, touched by KC's heartfelt efforts and sincerity. It was personal, heart warming and definitely very romantic.

Decisions, Decisions!

The couple's dream was for a fantasy wedding that would dazzle their guests. For this colossal task, the couple ploughed through numerous wedding planners' portfolios before deciding on Hannah Chong from Heaven's Gift. What won their hearts was Hannah's style and personality — her innate ability at creating dream weddings with beauty and elegance, coupled with her experience and expertise worked beautifully for the couple. The rest of the planning was made easier for them.

The Big Day

Linda and KC remembered their most breath-taking moment in the wedding was when the ballroom doors opened, and they took their first march in. The grandeur of the decorated hall combined with the many familiar faces formed the pinnacle of their wedding experience.

LINDA NG AND YEO KERR-CHINH'S
WEDDING
10.05.2008

VENUE Ritz-
Carlton Ballroom,
Singapore
THE GOWN
Singapore
Legendary designer — Tan
Yoong
THE SUIT Joe's
Tailor

The couple had always wanted an outdoor garden wedding. Hannah personalised their dream to the final theme “Enchanted Gardens”, one that is filled with lush candelabra centerpieces, Victorian floral fountains, and complete with a landscape of cherry blossom trees. Hannah and Brenda from Fiore Dorato specially designed the backdrop of cherry blossom trees. Every detail from the editing of the painting, to selection of tree trunks, the flower types, was extensively thought through. To convince the guests that the trees look as real, Hannah asked for thousands of fresh Matthiolas to be brought in. The fragrance of the flowers added to the final touch. The enchanted mood of the event was furthered enhanced by special lightings, where the ballroom was bathed in dynamic blue and lilac hues.

[REAL WEDDINGS]

Hong Kong celebrity Nnadia Chen Song Ling, a personal friend of the couple, flew in especially for their big day in spite of her busy schedule. The couple had their first dance under the trees as she sang one of her numbers.

"We loved our wedding and would always look back at it with very fond memories," says Linda. It was like what their planner, Hannah, has promised "you would only be able to visualise the full extent what we have created for you only on the actual day itself." She was right. Linda and KC were swept off their feet. "We were blessed to have worked with many in the industry who are really good at what they do. It saved us from experiencing the horror stories that we read about in magazines." This was one wedding that guests actually stayed behind even after the event was over. Many of the guests queued up to have their pictures taken with the cherry blossom trees. [STW]

