

AS MUCH AS IT'S EASY TO BELIEVE that a dream wedding experience can be planned effortlessly, the reality is often quite the opposite. The magnitude of organising a grand and memorable wedding can prove extremely daunting for any couple without the best of professional help.

Entrust your nuptials to Heaven's Gift and you'll be able to savour true wedded bliss sans frazzled nerves. More than merely an events planner, the firm is an established concept specialist whose services go above and beyond simply coordination work. Since 2004, Heaven's Gift has been conceptualising and styling one-of-a-kind wedding designs and experiences both locally and regionally. With its reputation growing beyond the wedding industry, the firm has also been commissioned by corporations to design and manage special events, especially in the past couple of years.

What makes Heaven's Gift so sought after is its ability to translate dreams and ideas into reality. More than just aesthetic transformations, the firm's wedding events have always been much talk-about, thanks to the way founder Hannah Chong and her team bring to life the intricate art of entertaining guests.

With the belief that there is no one-size-fits-all approach to designing and creating a party experience, they aim to create a bespoke experience reflective of each couple's individual style and personality, and at the same time, exude the intimacy and uniqueness that are key to the philosophy behind Heaven's Gift. Hannah adds, "What we specialise in is the ingenious crafting of a special event, as well as offering the knowledge and expertise to entertain guests with style on behalf of the hosts."

The magic begins from the very first concept meeting with Heaven's Gift. Besides the ability to listen and understand a couple's dreams and needs completely, Hannah's innate flair for envisioning and
