

The Wedding Makers

See the wedding of your dream come to life, with the personalised help of Heaven's Gift Wedding Concierge

YOUR STORY, OUR INSPIRATION.

Creating Weddings with a Personal Touch. A seamless synergy of creativity and meticulous planning, Heaven's Gift Wedding Concierge has achieved many firsts in the wedding industry – from creating some of the most fantasy weddings locally and overseas destinations as far as in Bali, Penang, Chennai & Seychelles, to launching a series of valuable wedding offerings for couples and an online boutique “Celebrate Heaven” that offers couture flower girl dresses and party ware, to providing licensed RSVP system for couples to better manage the guest registration on actual day. Their constant way of evolving themselves to better provide valuable services to their couples have made them a leading wedding planning company in Singapore.

Understanding that every couple is unique, Heaven's Gift Wedding Concierge offers an all-inclusive range of wedding services customised to suit your individual tastes and preferences – an experience that is in line with their corporate slogan, “Your Story, Our Inspiration. Creating Weddings with a Personal Touch”. They cover all bases, from designing big concepts to detailed coordination of the wedding on the big day, taking care of every minute detail and adding a personal touch that best reflects your personality and style. But what makes them truly distinctive in the industry is the way they understand their clients. Be it lavish or intimate weddings, they believe in creating weddings that are elegant and beautiful, all within the budget and expectations of their couples. As Hannah and Kim always promote: "Your wedding is a once in a lifetime experience. Always invest to create an experience, and always invest within your budget."

THE DYNAMICS OF TWO VETERANS

With more than a decade of wedding planning experience and design expertise under their belt, Creative Director Hannah Chong and Operations Director Kim Tay are names that need no introduction in the wedding industry. Yet when you sit down with these two planners, they are ever so refreshingly approachable and down-to-earth.

At the helm of the Creative Arm is Hannah, a highly motivated and passionate concept planner. She and her team of in-house designers take care of the design and conceptualisation of the wedding, from stage designs and lighting to the design of the favour packaging and wedding cake. "We envision what the wedding will look like, how the mood will progress and, together with our in-house designers and partnered contractors, we create the ultimate wedding experience for our couples," says Hannah. "We have no standard design template for a wedding. What a concept designer brings to a wedding goes beyond just mere pretty details," she says. A self-professed dreamer and romancer, Hannah never settles for anything less than what she's envisioned for the couple especially creating the magical moment for each of her couples. Don't be surprised to spot her on site supervising the installations, she is always there to direct the final lightings to perfect the first impressions. You can always see her smile when her couples are wowed at the first moments.

Meanwhile, Kim steers the Operations Arm of Heaven's Gift Wedding Concierge. Where Hannah is vivacious and high-spirited, Kim is quietly confident and exudes a calm demeanour – a quality that couples appreciate much during the oft-stressful planning process. "Besides the aesthetics and sensorial experience, we strive to make the entire planning process enjoyable and stress-free for our couples. Our key motivation is to provide our couples with the assurance that all the little details have been well taken care of, so they can focus now on what truly matters to them: to simply enjoy as the host of the party," says Kim.

If you are looking for a team that truly understands your needs, are able to craft your dream and able to deliver it within your desired budget, look no further, Heaven's Gift Wedding Concierge is the planner to entrust your big day to.
